Restructuring of Regional Rural Banks in Maharashtra

1636. SHRI GOVINDRAO ADIK: Will the Minister of FINANCE be pleased to state:

(a) the names of the regional rural banks in Maharashtra which have been restructured;

(b) whether the restructuring has affected the policy frame work and their working; and

(c) if so, the details thereof?

THE MINISTER OF FINANCE AND MINISTER OF COMPANY AFFAIRS (SHRI P. CHIDAMBARAM): (a) to (c) Four Regional Rural Banks (RRBs) viz. Aurangabad Jalna Gramin Bank, Thane Gramin Bank, Buldhana Gramin Bank and Yavatmal Gramin Bank in Maharashtra have been taken up for comprehensive restructuring. They have been provided equity support to the extent of Rs. 5.79 crores by Government of India as a part of this exercise. The changes in policy frame work in the context of restructuring, having a bearing on the working of RRBs include the following:

(i) With a view to widening the range of and scope of their services, the RRBs have been allowed, with effect from 1.1.1994, to finance non-target groups to the extent of 60% of their fresh lending. More discretionary powers have been given to them for purchasctiis-counting of chequestiemand drafts. Further, for widening their range of services, RRBs have been, inter-alia, allowed to issue tomers, install lockers, issue drafts and effect mail transfers.

(ii) Seventy RRBs with disbursements of less than Rs. 2 crores during 1992-93 have been relieved from the service area obligations and have been allowed to extend loans throughout the area within their jurisdiction.

(iii) RRBs have, subject to certain conditions, been allowed to relocate their loss making branches to relatively better locations viz. commercial centres like market areas, village mandis, block and district headquarters etc. and to redeploy concerned staff suitably.

(iv) All RRBs have been advised to prepare bank specific development action plans to enable them to adopt a systematic approach for their turnaround.

(v) Reserve Bank of India (RBI) has provided the RRBs access to profitable avenues for investment of their non-SLR surplus funds in listed and other schemes of Unit Trust of India (UTI), fixed deposits in profit making financial institutions like the Industrial Development Bank of India (IDBI), Industrial Credit Investment Corporation of India (ICICI), Industrial Finance Corporation of India (IFCI), Small Industrial Development Bank of India (SIDBI), in bonds of nationalised banks and profit earning public sector institutions and in non-convertible debentures of reputed blue chip companies. Besides, the RRBs have been permitted by the RBI to deploy a part of their surplus non-SLR funds in the credit portfolio of their sponsor banks through non-risk sharing participation certificates to be issued by the latter.

(vi) Prudential accounting norms of income recognition and asset classification have been applied to RRBs in 1995-%. Provisioning norms would be applied in a phased manner from 1996-97 onwards.

Petition of Union Leaders of State Bank of Indore
